The War Question.

There is great talk of war-long, loud, and foolish talk, by the pro-slavery presses and demagogues, of a war with England .--We have express treaty stipulations with that country, to sid each other in suppresssing the foreign Slave trade; and we know, and England knows, and all the world knows, that many U.S. resacls are constantly engaged in the infamous traffic; but auch is our exquisite sense of "honor," that we cannot allow England to visit our auspected vessels, and ascertain whether they are concerned in this hateful traffic which our government has long ago branded as " piracy" and made punishable with

The Washington Union, the official or gan of Mr. Huchanan-a most unwise, false-hearted and miserable organ-is openmouthed and eager for war. Bennett's Herald-the great Salanic organ of falsebood, ignorance and vulgarity-is vociferous and savage for war; thinks it would he highly advantageous and profitable to this country, in every point of view, to have a war with England. The Boston Post, Hartford Times, and other Lecompton journals, are very indignant at "British outrages," and utter warlike words in favor of chartising British insolence.

And last, but not least, the very delicate and refined sense of "honor," which is embadied and occasionally developed in Congress, has been couched. We all know what a powerful idea of "honor" the sunparters of Lecompton swindles and of Slavery must possess; and it is precisely that sort of gentry, both at Washington and elsewhere, who are now so eager for a fight with England. "The honor of the Nation must be maintained," says Secretary Cass and the Southern chivalry and the Northern dough!aces respond amen ! Mr. James M. Muson, of Virginia, chairman of the committee of foreign relations in the Senate, has made a report, declaring that the "national honor" will not permit the British to examine or even to visit American vessels suspected of being in the Slave trade. (This Senator Mason, who is such a brave champion of the "national henor," may be remembered as the author course, the citching of runaway Slaves, and the protection of Slave ship , are the measure of his patriotism and his sense of 10 national honor." It is amazing and melanchaly to see such men as Senators Hale and Seward consurring in this miserable Mason's report.

This Senate report alludes to the sugges tion that the foreign Slave trade is the cause of the alteged "outrages" by the British; and adds, with true Slavedriving dignity-" The Committee will not discuss that?" And why will they not discuss it? II. cause the Senatorial poltroons dure not. They know, full well, that the Slave trade is the cause—the abundant and amply jusying cause, of all the calls that have been made upon our ships by British officersand it is simply because "the Committee listrum their awn ability to argue down a act so plain and notorious, that they will ot discussit." So that the Benatorial ignity, in this case, repolves litself into the beerest cowardice, coupled with an evident urpose to shelter the foreign Slave teaflie, high our government has solemnly pledgd itself to aid in exterminating.

to We do hope-and take the liberty of saying so before it is too late for the real. ization of our desires -that those having authority will provide in some way for the thorough and early watering of our streets this summer. Last year this matter received but very tardy and partial attention. For a great part of the season the roads and unpayed thoroughfares belonging to this city were positively stiffing on accoun of the thick dust. Proquent complaints were made in every direction, and we our selves constantly implored some effective action on the part of the municipal guardians and law givers. Owing to a lack of foresight, however, we had neglected to speak about the subject in anticipation, and that circumstance deterred us to a considerable degree from vociferous tault-finding.-But now we begin in time. We must have abundant street sprinkling. And while we shall be willing to be served after our more fortunate friends on the "Point," in this, as in all other public array gements, we shall not submit in any case to see the sprinkling re form (like the curb-stone and grading movement) commenced in that favored quarter of the city, continued there profusely, and grudgingly extended to the less deserving, less clamorous, but not less populous

The celebration of the Rhode Island Baptist Sunday Schools, which we announce ed in our last issue, and which occurred yesterday, was a highly interesting occasion. The convention has now reached its nineteenth year, and can with propriety congratulate itself upon the happy privilege of enjoying a retrospect bright with suc cesses and good works. At the morning session reports were read as promised, and their statements went far enough to show the established prosperity of the Societies. An ample and elegant collation was spread in the Vestry of the Second Baptist Church. and we should suppose that a more radiant and satisfied assemblage rarely, if ever, met in more innocent and thankful pleasure .-The Steamer Canonicus, which brought the excursionists to our shores, was freighted again at five o'clock in the afternoon, and departed up the bay. We were very glad that the affair came off so favorably, and especially, that the day was so fair a one; and we cordially hope for an equal, or even larger share of good fortune, to attend the Societies during the coming years, and to fling around each subsequent anniversary the charms of unanimity and increasing in

There was a storm of rain and snow at Halifax on the 25th. The Morning Jour-ual of the 26th says: No less than eight vessels from the Magdalen Islands, came in on Monday, loaded with herrings. The Journal, alluding to the excitement on the subject of the searching of American ves sels by British emisers, says:—It is to be hoped that, as on several former occasions, when the flame of war seemed ready to burst forth, the good sense and humanity of governments will over-bear the papular frenzy, and remove the cause of comlaint. CORRESPONDENCE.

Washington, Tuesday, June 1. We are constantly hearing complaints in Congress, and out, about Americans residing in other countries not being protected by our Government in person and property. As long as our citizens remain upon the high seas, or travel quietly through foreign countries without acquiring a domicil or forfeiting their home citizenship, of course they are entitled to the protection of their home government, and in such cases they have never been recased it. So, of course the representatives of our Government abroad are entitled to its protection, and always receive it. But when a Yankee expatiates himself, and goes among a foreign people, to come his science over them, and introduce among them his wooden mutmeg and such like succulations, he forfeits the protection of his native country and accepts that of the land of his adoption, whatever it may be. If he falls among a people who approciate his "talent and skill"; it will be well with him; but if he chooses intercourse with harbarians and cannibals he should not be surprised to find himself a victim to their peculiar notions and appetites. Unele Sam would have his hands full in undertaking to look after and shape the destiny of every Yankee clock-pedler and speculator that might see fit to desert our lowe fertile soil, and try his fortune in a foreign land. We do not say that there are many undescrying cases brought before Congress, but there are some, and before the Government is blamed for not extending its protection to its "citizens" abroad, it should first be enquired whether the mersons complained about are citizens, and are entitled to the protection claimed for them.

The late Douglas Bill, about which so much fuss is being made by the press, both pro and con, is simply a gross insult to the President, officiously, patronizingly, and gratuitously, conferring upon him power which he already possesses under the Constitution, and which he is exercising to the utmost resources of the Navy at his command. What does the Douglas Bill con tain but the gist of instructions, already, issued and in process of execution? We impugn the motives of no Sengtor. But looking at the matter, as we do, from an independent stand point, it looks very much like the ruse of a rival, to appropriate to himself the credit of what the present incumbent is accomplishing-or, else, to cheaply and patronizingly conciliate former lifferences, and kindly take the administration under the protection of and into communion with, the new school Democrats.

The Telegraphic rumor that Lord Napier has despatched a British Vessel from New Long of tell the British Cruisers to "hold on," is without foundation. He has simply written to the flag officer of the West India Squadron, stating to him the nature of comphilms rife in this country, and suggesting to him the propriety of seeing that instructions are not misunderstood or exceeded by his under officers.

The statement of a New York paper that the Post Master General has issued orders to the Post Master at New York to detain and send to the dead letter office al! letters directed to certain lottery and quack mediclass firms in that city, to be opened and their contents returned to their owners. with cautionary circulars, is not only with out foundation, but is a like of the common se so and official integrity of that high officer. Far from stooping to such an illegal and criminal violation of the sanctity of the Post Cliice Department, he leaves the Gothamites to detect and reform their own raseals in their own way. Almost every exchange paper we open contains some anecdote of their triumphs over disease or of the uplift-ing of some debilitated and hopoless invalid from the lowest depths of physical weak ness and mental despondency, by their aid, No other advertised medicines have ever commanded such encomiums from the medcal, religious, political and indepent press, as Holloway's remedies. Papers and periremedies. Papers and peridicals too frightly aristocratic even to publish advertisements of the ordinary nostrums of the day, have carnestly commended Pills to the confidence of the afflicted. Nothing but great facts, too widely known to be disputed, could have forced the accredited organs of the faculty to bow to this mighty innovator, the Casar of the world of medicine, and his peerless curatives. But even these have succurried. Truth can no more arrested in its course than the lightnings of beaven .- N. Y. Sunday Mercury.

But it is amusing to notice the various methods for taming horses, which the exploits or Rarey, and others of his profession, are now for the first time bringing within the observation of common minds. It is highly probable, we think, that Mr. Rarey is in the possession of a much more potent and invisible charm, than exists in the placing o a strap about the fore legs of his equine Incidents of Franklin's Life.-On his first trip by land, to see his father in Boston, Dr. Franklin was worried almost to death by the abomulable inquisitiveness of the New England tayern keepers, as related by Werms, the author, in a recently pub-lished life of the Philosopher.

After having been prodigiously teased in this way for several days, until at last the bare sight of a public house almost threw nim into an ague, he determined to try following remedy at the very next tavern. Soon as he alighted from his horse, he de-Soon as he alighted from his horse, he desired the tavern keeper to collect his whole family, wife, children and servants, every soul of them; for he had something easily important to communicate. All being assembled and wondering what he had to say, he thus addressed them; "My name is therizants. Franklin. I am a print. say ne mus anterescent near a print-is Benjamin Franklin. I am a print-tr by trade. I live, when at home, in Piniadelphin. In Roston, I have a father, a good old man, who taught me, when I was a boy, to read my book and say my prayers. I have, ever since, thought it my prayers. I have, ever since, thought it my duty to pay my respects to such a father, and I am on that cerand to Boston naw. This is all that I can at present recollect of myself that I think worth telling you. But if you can think of anything else which you wish to know about me. Forty thousand sermons against idle curiosity could hardly have driven it so effectually out of New England as did this little squib of ridicule.

ARRIVAL OF THE AMERICA.

Halilax, June 2-The Royal Mail steam-Haliax, June 2—The Royal Mail steam-ship America, Capt. Moodie, from Liver-pool, Saturday, 22d ult., arrived at an early hour this morning. SECOND DISPATCH.

Halifax, May 2—The America, Capt. Moodie, arrived at 5 o'clock this morning, and saited for Boston at 7 o'clock.

The political news by this arrival is of much interest.

In the British House of Commons Mr. Cardwell had withdrawn his motion censuring the government for the publication of a dispatch to the Governor General of India. The Derby ministry had thus achieved a virtual triumph. important item of intelligence is that the King of Naples had, in effect, rejected the demands of England for indemnities to the imprisoned engineers of the Cagliari.

NICK WHIFFLES:

OR. The Trapper Guide-

A TALE OF THE NORTH-WEST, BY DR. J. H. ROBINSON, Author of "Buck Bison," "Pioneers of Ken-tucky," "Marion's Brigade," "Half-Wit-ted Nat," (cc., etc.

IT HIS LAST AND BEST STORY. (1) FOR SALE BY ALL NEWS DEALERS IN THE

This is a story descriptive of Wild and startling Adventure, and of the primitive notes of life, among the Indians and Trapers of the Great Nurthwestern Territory.—This grand and extensive portion of the American Continent has been litherto almost as a "sealed book" to the civilized world. In those regions a territory markly surgous Europe. This grand and extensive portion of the American Continent has been hitherto almost as a "sealed book" to the civilized world. In those regions a territory nearly as targe as Parope has long been locked in the monopoly of the great Hudsun's Bay Company, and its rival, the Vorthwestern Co. Private enterprise has not entered its solitudes, and of those whose duties have called then there, and who have participated in the treasures of this unknown land, none have hitherto been willing to expose its mysteries, or have possessed the power of portraping the perilons and strange vicinsitudes, through which they have passed. Here we find clusses of men, distinct, indigenous to the soil, or moulded by its peculiarities; perfectly original in character, utterly unlike in manners and habits to any similar order in other lands. The hidden, in all his natural widness; the halfbreed, a strange misture of during, simplicity and cunning; the Trapper, who searns the restraints of civilization, and recognizes no law but the fierce impulse of his was will; the European Exile or Outcost; the Outlaw of Canada and the United States, who seek in the trackless wildefeness a refuge from the outraged taws of civilized life.

Nor is this rade society denied the genialinfluences and humanizing effects of woman's presence. Impelled by affection, hundreds of devoted comen have accommanded these adventurous outcosts to this wild retreat; while the population, the offspring of mixed races contains thousands of half-ore of fenales, in whom the passions, the graces, and the virtues of the softer sex, are blended with the artlessness of nature, and the wild free-loom of a life that knows ne conventionalities.

In these reckless unen the great rival Companies find willing agents and measured and measured artlessness of nature, and the wild freedom of a life that knows no conveniousalities. In these reckless men the great tival Companies find willing agents and unserupulous tools; once engaged in, their service, but few ever return, or care to return, to society. Among these people are enacted deeds of rule hivalry, as brilliant and daring as any recorded of the chivalric ages. And among them also are committed tragelies, and crimes of wild passion, that can find no parallel in history, or scarcely in fiction. Living absolutely without has, and without protection, every man is, perforce, a law unto himself, and the riffe and the towahawk are the only arbitrers.

self, and the rifle and the towahawk are the only arbiters.
Here is a glorious field for a novelist whose experience and talent it him for the task of depicting its events. Such a noun is the surphor of "NI K WHIFFIRS;" and in this stor we reture to say that he has surpassed every former effort. For didlity to nature, for graphic and drantito force of style, and for keen delineation of character, there are few stories in the language that can compare with "NICK WHIFFIRS". The author brings before the feader, in life-like action, the hardy adventurers and the simple natives of this magnificent region. The crime, the wrongs, the informations and the unsophistic acted virtues of the life he digites, alternately arouse our indignation and awaken our sympathy. At one time we are tapk in adwrongs, the inisfortunes and the unsophisticated virtues of the life he decites, alternately arouse our Indignation and awaken our sympathy. At one time we are rapt in admiration of the reckless courage and romanic during so vividly painted by this skillful writer, at another we are melted to tears by the exquisite pathes with which some of the noblest traits of human nature are brought before us, and again we are convulsed with laughter by humorous descriptions of eccentric and original characters—the unique offspring of a free, lawless, and antrammelled mode of existence; a phrase of human nature hitherto unknown for want of a historian.

Those who have read the previous productions from the pro of Dr. Robinson, do not require to be told that there is no man now living who can compete with him in a story of this character. Ho stands unrivalled in this class of literature. As one of the leading contributors for the 'Plag of Our Union, and other leading publications of the day, for a number of years, he mas acquired a popularity that places him in the front rank of American story writers.

37 These who desire to secure this great story by Dr. ROBINSON, complete, should send in their orders at once, to enable us to make arrangements usuapply them. Wherever there I: a new-agent order through him. We only desire to send the WEEKLY by mail to out of the-way places, where there is no news dealer. When sent by mail, the terms are §2 a year, or two copies for §3. Six months subscription §1. All orders by mail must be addressed to A. J. LOTTERIES.—The Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co., are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner.—They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of patties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co., are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one cicket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halres, $5; quarters, $2 60. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are up on the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no enablastion of numbers to missify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $60,000; every prize ing drawn and result of drawing forwards to all purchasers.
